MISSING PARTS - SUBMISSION OF COMPUTER READABLE AND PAPER SEQUENCE LISTING

Sir:

Responsive to the Notice of Missing Requirements, Applicants are puzzled by the notice stating that no computer readable Sequence Listing was received. As evidenced by the enclosed copy of the return post card receipt, a computer readable Sequence Listing was sent at the time of filing of the application and its receipt acknowledged by the USPTO.

It has been noted by the undersigned attorney that this office has received quite a few of these Notices regarding missing computer readable Sequence Listings. As a computer readable form of the Sequence Listing WAS sent in each instance, these notices are not understood.

An explanation from the USPTO to the undersigned attorney regarding the disappearance of Sequence Listing diskettes would be greatly appreciated.

In any event, Applicants herewith provide a duplicate Sequence Listing in CD-ROM, computer readable form and a paper copy of the same, along with a 37 CFR § 1.821(f) Statement for the convenience of the USPTO.

Entry of the foregoing into the record of this application, acknowledgement of receipt thereof, and early and favorable action on the merits are hereby respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FIRM OF HUESCHEN AND SAGE
